$16 Over Two Years

It Will Cost More To Live Here This Year

Facing a predicted $16 increase in the tax rate over a two year period, Andover voters struggled through three lengthy sessions of the annual town meeting and decided on a $9 increase for this year.

The increase was predicated on the use of the town's free cash account for this year. The overall $16 tax hike over a two year period was predicted by Town Manager Richard J. Bowen, who advocated less free cash.

In the process of hiking their municipal financial responsibility the voters also adopted a dog control law, as opposed to a dog leash law, rejected two-acre zoning and deferred action on providing parking in the downtown area.

Beginning on Saturday morning at 9:30, the meeting ran until almost 5 p.m., then came back on Monday from 7:30 to 11 p.m. and finally finished action on the 58-article warrant about midnight on Tuesday.

The voters decided, by a majority vote to save a dollar on the tax rate this year, by using more money from the free cash account as recommended by the Finance Committee.

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen had suggested that only $370,800 be taken from the free cash account to reduce the tax rate. This would have given the town a $10 increase in the tax rate making the levy per thousand $41.

The finance committee argued for use of $550,800 in free cash which would result in a $9 increase.

The voters backed the FinCom. The particular article was described by Bowen as the "most critical in the warrant." He said that use of less free cash would assist the town next year in reducing its tax burden, noting that use of additional funds a year ago resulted in at least $1 of this year's tax hike.

Ovation For Bowen

Town Manager Richard J. Bowen, who will complete his duties here at the termination of his contract in July, was given a standing ovation by the town meeting at its conclusion Tuesday night.

Bowen, informed the selectmen a week ago that he would not be a candidate for reappointment at the termination of his contract.

Tuesday night, Chairman Philip K. Allen commended the manager and expressed appreciation for the work done in preparation for town meeting.

The audience rose and applauded, but Bowen was on his way out of the hall, following remarks of Karl Haartz, who made a motion, apparently misinterpreted. Mr. Haartz explains his motion in the letter to the editor in this week's TOWNSMAN.

DEMOCRACY. If a picture is truly worth 10,000 words, then this montage composed by Photographer Richard D. Graber, adequately portrays Andover's 1969 annual town meeting. The composition, which he titles, "The Year of the Dog," shows the pooch, youngsters watching their parents, knitting away the hours, voters and town officials.

Teacher Tenure An Issue

Teacher tenure came under fire and became an unexpected hot issue at the annual town meeting when it reached the floor Tuesday night.

An article proposed by Dr. Richard A. Katz, chairman of the school committee, asked the town's permission to petition the legislature, to abolish the present teacher tenure law.

Following considerable debate, it was passed by a majority vote. Present laws dictate that after a teacher is elected three consecutive times, he attains tenure and can not be removed without due cause.

Dr. Katz pointed out that the petition to the legislature would not, in effect, result in the complete abolition of tenure, but might lead to some reform.

He said he felt that some reform is needed because at present it is virtually impossible to remove a teacher or an administrator once the tenure status has been achieved.

Gerald Silverman, a junior high school department head, opposed the move and told the voters, "look to our city across the river and see the results of a coach who was ousted because he was not on the right side of the political fence."

He said that the tenure laws were on the books to protect the professional person and contended that teachers have rights to be active politically and in labor-management relationships, without suffering possible recrimination. Silverman also felt the school committee has the right to remove a teacher or administrator under the present tenure law.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg of the Finance Committee supported the article, noting that when the collective bargaining law came into effect a few years back, this afforded protection to the teacher.

The subject of the town meeting was the successful town meeting in other cases.

Educators Win Some And Lose A Little

The subject of education was considerably debated at the annual town meeting this year, somewhat successful to the educators, and in other cases not quite so successful.

The school department budget was approved, following considerable debate, approval was granted to expansion of the regional vocational school, acquisition of school sites had an affirmative feeling of the session, but a planning grant of $90,000 to add to the Central school was rejected.

As the town meeting trudged through the budget on Saturday, the school budget became a matter of controversy, with the item dealing with the addition of teaching personnel to the system the most debated.

Dr. Richard A. Katz defended the need for the additional personnel and the overall budget totalling $4,735,187 was approved. Also approved on Saturday was the 1968 Andover contribution to the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school at a cost of $71,449.

Saturday's session concluded following considerable discussion concerning the acquisition of school sites. Originally placed in the warrant were nine sites and a total cost of $1,000,000.

Following lengthy discussion the meeting adjourned shortly before 5 p.m. Saturday with the feeling that coming back Monday night they would be able to act on the matter in better fashion.

At the meeting Monday night, the voters appropriated $400,000 to acquire six sites, with $368,000 of the amount to be bonded. Considered in the acquisition are sites in West Andover, including property owned by Harry Axelrod near the Internal Revenue Service building.

In a supplemental warrant, taken up within the town meeting action Monday night, the town became the second in the district to give its approval to expansion of the vocational school on River Road. Lawrence had previously approved of the expansion. Andover is the first town to give its approval of the proposed addition.

Fred S. Tarbox chairman of the vocational school committee addressed the meeting Monday night, as did James Booth, superintendent-director of the school.

They explained the need for new programs and increased space at the school and asked the town to approve the proposal. Both explained that with the addition, and the increased reimbursement from the state, the town would be paying less in future years for operation of the facility.

Voters then approved the addition to the school by an almost unanimous vote.

North Andover and Methuen, also in the district, must also approve the proposal.

The educators did not do so well on an article which would have provided planning funds for an expansion of the Central school.

An article which originally had asked for $295,000 for an addition to the high school, an addition to West Junior high and an addition to the Central, Sanborn or South schools, was changed on the town meeting floor.

Dr. Richard A. Katz, chairman of the school committee, asked that the town appropriate $90,000 for a planning grant for an addition to the Central school. This was to provide plans for a $1,400,000 addition which would provide 12 classrooms, a kindergarten and core facilities.

Discussed at length, a final vote failed to provide the two-thirds majority necessary to appropriate the money.

Thus plans for any school additions are now put off until at the least the October town meeting.

February Sets Record For Building

February was a record month for building in Andover as Building Inspector Arthur Peatman issued permits totalling $9,011,000 for new construction and additions and alterations.

Largest permit was for the new

Raytheon plant in West Andover which was for $8,808,000, the largest permit issued in the history of the town and also brought the largest fee—$26,414.

Permits for new construction, all for new homes were issued to: four to N. L. Mitton as follows—Bannister Road, $24,000; Fairfax Drive, $35,000; Midland Circle, $35,000 and $45,000; J. J. Segadelli, two on Marie Drive at $28,000.

Permits for additions and alterations were issued to: John Barbas, 517 Lowell St., breezeway, basement, $1,000; Danton Realty, 77 Main St., rebuilding foundation, $4,000; Arthur J. Poschen, 219 High Plain Road, bedroom, $1,500; Warren Lewis, 7 Kirkland Drive, family room, $1,500; Alvin Towne, 61 Maple Ave., remodel bath, $1,400.

The kitchen... where neighbors troop in and kids troop out—where husbands putter around and wives spend nearly every minute of the day.

The people at Barwick Mills decided to improve the kitchen. So they developed a floor covering that is so great you'll just have to see it to believe it. Imagine. The luxury and comfort under foot of soft carpet—the dramatic change in appearance. Bold, bright colors. Patterns to mix and meld with any decorative motif. No more hands and knees scrubbing and waxing. Wipe up spills with a sponge. Pick up crumbs with a vacuum. The only thing it absorbs is noise.

There's a lot to be said for a kitchen carpeted by Barwick. A built-in rubber cushion makes standing much easier. There's no need for a separate pad and it grips the floor reducing skids and slides. Kitchen Classics... surprisingly inexpensive...

Andover Man Takes Command

Colonel Charles W. Hayward of Andover is now the commanding officer of the 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division. The Brigade colors passed from the hands of the outgoing commander, Colonel Robert L. Fair, in recent ceremonies at Tay Ninh.

Colonel Hayward is 41 years old and a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he received his B. S. degree in 1950. Hayward comes to Tay Ninh after serving in the office of the Assistant Secretary of the Army in Washington, D. C. Colonel Robert L. Fair of San Francisco, the outgoing commander moves on to take up the post of Chief of Staff of the 25th Infantry Division at headquarters in Cu Chi.

Major General Ellis W. Williamson, commanding officer of the 25th Division, addressed the assembly at the ceremonies. He praised both incoming and outgoing commanders, making special note that the 1st Brigade has a winning team, an outstanding combination of staff and line troops.

In addressing the members of his new command, Hayward referred to the fine combat record of the 1st Brigade, then added, "It has been said that to stand still is to move backward. I certainly do not intend to stand still. With the co-operation of the excellent 1st Brigade staff we will make every effort to improve on an already outstanding record."

Hayward's previous military awards include a Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star for Heroism and two Purple Hearts.

TOWN MEETING

Without use of free cash, the increase would have been to $43.06, Bowen advised the meeting.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg, chairman of the Finance Committee, advised the taking of the larger amount and the voters by a wide majority approved of taking $9 out of their pocket this year rather than $10 and facing the music a year from now.

Debated at some length Tuesday night were two key issues, the dog leash law, and two-acre zoning.

The town approved of a dog control law - a more liberal enforcement of the care and custody of canines in the community.

The dog control law as opposed to the leash law, allows the dog officer to pick up dogs under certain conditions. The leash law approved a year ago, but without funds to properly enforce the regulations, makes it emphatic that dogs must be on a leash when outside private property.

With the passing of the more liberal regulations, the money to be acted upon in the budget for a dog officer, a dog pound and a vehicle to pick up straying canines was eliminated.

As for two-acre zoning, Town Manager Bowen advocated it to control the growth of the town. He said he felt that such a regulation would protect the town from mushrooming growth with the resultant need for services, additional schools, etc.

Arguing against the motion were several persons who contended that two acre lots were unmanageable, would be too expensive to purchase and maintain, and also that present cluster zoning regulations in town permit additional homes in less than zoned areas.

Selectman William Stewart argued strongly against the proposal stating that Andover's young people would be unable to build here when they married. He concluded, "show me a town without young people and I will show you a dying town."

The article was defeated, 254-210.

Withdrawn Monday night was an article which requested $250,000 for acquisition of the Andover Playhouse property and the Daly block on North Main street. The properties were to be used for parking facilities.

The Andover Chamber of Commerce, which had requested the funds, withdrew the article Monday night. Atty. Thomas Tavenner, president of the chamber made the motion.

The chamber officials and the Finance Committee came to agreement on the item. It was agreed between the two groups that there was a need for additional parking facilities in the downtown area and that the town should be involved in such a project.

Soul Program On Sunday

The Andover Unitarian-Universalist Church will present a Soul Program on March 16 at 6:30 p.m. The purpose of the program is to trace the historical development of the black man's music and dance emanating from his experience in this country. Work songs, spirituals, blues, bebop and present soul music will be demonstrated by a troupe of Soul Cousins and friends from Medford, Mass. The leader of the teenage group of performers is Mrs. Ione Vargue, a doctoral student in social planning at the Florence Heller School at Brandeis, and a member of the Executive Council of the Afro-American Society at Brandeis.

The program is sponsored by the church's school of religion in conjunction with their present study of Afro-American history.

Soul food will be served at the climax of the program. The public is invited to attend.

Camping Available

The Andover YMCA, as a branch of the Greater Lawrence YMCA, is able to offer varied summer camping opportunities to Andover residents. Informational folders of the several offerings may be obtained at the Andover YMCA. Most of the camps are fully enrolled at an early date. Wellington H. Tinker, Jr., of Andover, is director of camping services for the Greater Lawrence YMCA.

Camp Lawrence, for boys 8-15 years of age, offers eight weeks of resident camping at a beautiful site on Lake Winnepesaukee. Camp Nokomis, also on Bear Island on Lake Winnepesaukee, provides eight weeks of resident camping for girls 8-16 years of age. A family camp is operated for 10 days following the close of the regular season at both Camp Lawrence and Camp Nokomis.

The Lawrence YMCA Day Camp for boys, with a site at Captain's Pond, Salem, N.H., offers a 9 week daytime program. Applications for enrollment in this camp are now being accepted. F. Lewis Brown, of Andover, has directed the day camp for the past 10 years.

The Greater Lawrence YMCA also conducts two travel camps. Camp Westward-Ho for boys 12-15 years of age covers 7,000 miles through 18 states and 3 countries in four weeks. Camp Eastward-Ho to Europe for boys and girls 15-19 (next trip 1970) offers a 3 week trip by jet and buses in seven European countries.

Sisterhood To Present Annual Dinner

The annual Sisterhood Sabbath dinner will precede services at Temple Emanuel this Friday, March 14 at six p.m. This is a highlight of the Temple season. Sisterhood women prepare a traditional sabbath meal, and the evening is replete with all the Jewish traditions for the sabbath. Candles are blessed at each table, the Kiddush (blessing over the wine) is sung, blessing is made over the chalah (the breaking of bread) and at the conclusion of the meal, grace is said by means of Hebrew songs. Congregational families get together annually to enjoy this rich experience in Jewish tradition.

Following the dinner, sabbath eve. services are held as usual at 8:15 p.m.; and the officers of Sisterhood participate in the service in conjunction with Rabbi Harry A. Roth and Cantor Irving Shuman.

Among the forthcoming events--
March 21 - Cantor Irving Shuman will present a brief program of Jewish music, liturgical, classical, etc., during the Oneg Shabbat social hour following Sabbath Services.

March 28 - March 29 - Reform Judaism weekend at Temple O-Habei Shalom in Brookline will commemorate the birth of Rabbi Isaac M. Wise, founder of Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion, Central Conference of American Rabbis, and the Union of American Hebrew Congregations. (Temple Emanuel being one of them)

All member congregations in the New England Region will participate in the Service on Friday night, the Dayette for Confirmation Classes during the day on Saturday, and the dinner and reception on Saturday night.

Rabbi Haskell Bernat is to be the guest speaker at an adult education lecture on Sunday, March 30.

Open House Scheduled At Haven

All day Thursday, March 20, from 10 in the morning until 4 in the afternoon, the Andover Haven will hold a spring open house. All Andoverites are invited to come in and see what is going on with their senior citizens and to view a display of the paintings resulting from John Reid's weekly art classes at The Haven. Light refreshments will be served throughout the day. An especially warm welcome awaits senior citizens new to Andover or the Haven activities.

There are still openings in the Crewel Embroidery Class held every Tuesday morning at 10. Friday is given over exclusively to men's activities.

The Council on Aging, sponsors of The Haven, are instituting a new Telechek program for senior citizens who live alone or who are shut-ins. Under this program those who apply for the service will receive a daily phone call at a pre-arranged time to make sure that all is well. If there is no answer after three calls within a half hour period or if the person called indicates an emergency exists, a person in authority will be sent immediately to help Telechek; phone requests for application blanks for this service may be made to the Haven, 475-3968. No one will be called who has not specifically applied for the service.

Bancroft School Accepted, March 24 Opening Planned

formed the TOWNSMAN.

The school department, which was informed over the weekend, and received official notification Monday afternoon, announced that full-day sessions will begin in both Bancroft and South Schools the week of March 24.

Bancroft kindergartens will operate in the morning, Superintendent of Schools Edward I. Erickson announced, while the South School kindergartens, which have met in the morning since September, will shift to afternoon sessions as planned.

Supplies, equipment, and books are now being moved into the building, and furniture being placed. Bancroft teachers are spending their mornings getting themselves and their effects settled into the new building, then dashing back to South School to teach their classes in the afternoons.

Sometime next week, the pupils will be brought to the school in grade-level groups for the orientation in new open concept surroundings which Principal Earl Simon says is necessary before full-school occupancy begins.

Neither Erickson nor Simon would be pinned down as to the exact first day of school, but said that parents would be informed.

Erickson pointed to the number of items that had to be accomplished before school could begin: repair of a roof leak by Leominster, placement of all equipment, teacher and pupil orientation, removal of snow from all exits, and otherwise assuring that public safety requirements are met. A certificate of occupancy from the state board of public safety is necessary before any school can open.

School officials said it was possible that this might mean the first day of school would be later in the week than Monday, March 24; but they did not anticipate this. They also said that quick accomplishment of all requirements could make at least a dry-run occupancy of the building by the entire school possible at the end of next week. Erickson emphasized that school officials were "at least as anxious as parents to end double sessions and start school in Bancroft."

The state's inspector of public safety toured the building Tuesday with Building Committee Chairman Lloyd. He will reappear today to check off a last list of safety requirements, some of which the inspector proposed to the building committee for the first time on Tuesday.

Long-suffering Lloyd, who called February's mammoth snowfall the first act of God in Bancroft's several delays, found that the heavens had fallen in again when he arrived on site with the safety inspector. Scaffolding which the contractor had left on the roof yielded to the weight of snow, the nails pulled loose and the scaffolding slid down to crash through a skylight in the hall near the kindergarten. Assistant Superintendent for Elementary Schools Vaughn I. Clapp assured the TOWNSMAN that even though snow was involved, Lloyd had not blamed this one on God, but on Leominster.

In accepting the building as substantially complete, the building committee prepares a punch list of items which the contractor is obligated to fulfill but which do not prevent occupancy and use of the building. The grounds and fields lie in this category.

Superintendent Erickson had some words of advice for parents of Bancroft children who will be walking to school. He advised that it would be a good idea for parents to walk with their children the first day or so, since the children will be walking over a new route to a new school. He added that crossing guard would be on duty at Holt and Salem Streets, a custodian at Holt and Wildwood, and outside traffic banned at school walking hours, beginning on the first day of school.

The following bus schedules will go into effect on the opening day:

First trips for the Bancroft school will start at 8 a.m. and the second trip will start according to length of time it takes for first trip.

Charles Vartabedian - First trip - Starting at the corner of Prospect Road and the By-pass, to Salem Street to Wildwood Road right on Wildwood to Sheridan to Sagamore to Bancroft school; second trip - Starting at Rocky Hill Road - right on Linda Road right on to South Main Street to the Bancroft school.

George Dumont - First trip - Gould Road, around Farwood Drive, left on By-pass; right on South Main Street, to Bancroft school; second trip - Shaw Drive, right on Chatham Road, around Archer Lane to Chatham Blankenship to the Bancroft school.

Kindergarten classes will be dismissed at 11:15. All kindergarten children will be bussed home.

The children on Holt Road to the corner of Orchard St., Woodland Road, Highland Road and Salem St. to the By-pass will walk to and from school.

Wesson Chosen For Honor

The Merrimack College alumni office has been notified that a 1954 graduate of Merrimack College has been selected to appear in the 1969 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America.

The selection of Charles H. Wesson, Jr., of 38 York St. was announced by the 16-man board of advisory editors. Doug Blankenship, past U.S. Jaycee president who is serving as chairman of the board, said the selection is of young men who "have distinguished themselves in one or more fields of endeavor to the point of being outstanding."

Mr. Wesson is a member of the Merrimack College Alumni Association. He was president of the association from 1966-1968 and vice president from 1964-66. He is on Merrimack's Board of Governors, and also served from 1958-1960 and from 1962-64. He was also the 1968 chairman of the Alumni drive, and is a charter member of the Merrimack Century club.

In 1965, Wesson was a solicitor for the John Hancock United Fund Drive, and he was co-chairman of the drive in 1967-68.

Wesson is a member of St. Augustine's Holy Name Society, and has been director of teacher recruitment for the CCD since 1967. He was a member of St. Augustine's Building Fund Drive in 1959 and was parish baseball coach from 1958-59.

He was a member of the Young Democrats from 1958-61, and was president of the Jaycees from 1962-64.

The 1969 edition of Outstanding Young Men of America is the fifth edition of the annual biographical compilation featuring the accomplishments of approximately 5,000 young men of outstanding rank throughout the country.

Portraits, Ballads At People's Choice

This Friday The People's Choice coffee house will present A Portrait Painting Demonstration with Paul Rahilly. Mr. Rahilly will do an oil portrait of a model and explain his technique as he works.

In addition Mrs. Mary Elizabeth O'Donoghue of 87 Bartlet St. will sing Irish ballads for St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. Rahilly is an instructor at Vesper George School of Art, a member of the American Watercolor Society and Allied Artists of America. He was invited to exhibit at the Twentieth Century American Portrait Invitational at Newport.

Mrs. O'Donoghue received her masters degree in music in Florence, Italy. She lived in Ireland for five years.

The People's Choice will go Irish in food and decor for the occasion. The coffee house is held at the Unitarian Universalist Church, Lowell St. The public is invited.

Editorial Comment

Reform Needed?

The annual town meeting which started on Saturday, and was continued, needs some attention by the residents of this community.

The TOWNSMAN commented a week ago that it would not make mention of the fact that this form of government has outgrown itself, due to the population of the town.

This week, we feel we must make some comment on the annual town meeting and ask that some study be made by either a special appointive committee or by the selectmen, that some change is definitely needed.

Saturday, working from 9:30 in the morning until close to 5 in the afternoon, the voters of this community managed to pass action on only ten of 57 articles in the town meeting warrant.

They returned Monday night to act on some more, and yet another session was needed.

Suggestion that the representative form of town meeting be instituted here in Andover, we are assured, would be a most controversial issue.

But, we feel, the time has come to evaluate the transaction of this community's annual business.

The traditional New England town meeting is, indeed, the true Democratic process, but in this day and age, it appears to be becoming unwieldy.

A true representative type of town meeting, might easily solve the problems of the extended town meetings. There are charters existing in Lexington, Concord and other areas in this state which could be studied. These forms, lend themselves to allowing representatives to express the feelings and vote according to the dictates of the people they represent.

There are those who fear that town employees would suddenly take over the town, as is the case in some communities with representative type town meetings.

We feel that every person is entitled to represent their community, regardless of their station in life. We also feel that Andover has a responsible electorate which would selectively choose those who would represent them at town meeting.

To extend the annual town meeting over such lengthy sessions, is to make the business of attending to town affairs a matter which is time consuming, for one thing. To drag it on, lends itself to failing to give all persons an opportunity to act on the issues, since not all persons are available when the sessions are held.

We feel that attention to town affairs has now become a tremendous responsibility and one which might be better served by responsible representatives - Representatives who would listen to their constituents in the areas they serve, and bring that feeling to town meeting.

In this way, town business could be processed more smoothly, and the feelings of the town still made clear.

A study along these lines, would, indeed, prove profitable to the town, we think.

Some Thoughts

Speaking of the annual town meeting, brings to mind that while this year's session was fairly well attended, there were many things to be desired.

Transferring the session to the high school gymnasium, to our way of thinking, did not work out as well as might have been anticipated.

First of all, the acoustics were terrible. It was difficult for persons to hear in many sections of the large room. This, we understand, is due to some improvements being made in the sound system by the firm which originally installed the equipment. Temporary equipment is being used at present and certainly was far from adequate.

Secondly, the parking situation was abominable. Some persons were compelled to leave their cars a considerable distance from the town meeting site. In this era of the emphasis on physical fitness, one might assume that such activity is beneficial - only to those who are used to it and accustomed to such activity. For the older persons and those not in good physical condition, it was an effort to get to the gymnasium.

There was also the dragged out discussion of many issues, resulting in the annual session being extended to midnight on Tuesday. This, we feel, could be eliminated by a little more control by the moderator.

Atty. Arthur Williams told the voters that as long as he was moderator, he would allow all persons to be heard on the issues.

We feel there should be limited debate and some control exercised on the length of discussion. We do not choose to disenfranchise any voter, under the present form of government, but feel there must be some limitation.

Other communities manage to transact municipal business, with even larger warrants, than Andover has been doing - notably North Andover which this year just might have to adjourn to a second session, but we would not risk making a definite prediction with the knowledge of Moderator Arthur Thompson's ability at handling town meetings.

The Memorial Auditorium, where the session finally ended, is much better than the high school gymnasium, we think, although fully cognizant of the fact that large crowds could present problems.

Possibly closed circuit television could solve some problems in this area - allowing other rooms within the school building to be used to accommodate a large gathering.

Lastly, we might comment, and we mean no offense to anyone, we find that a gymnasium, by any other designation, is still a gymnasium. At the time of adjournment on Saturday after a full day of occupancy, one might have thought a basketball game had just ended.

It was still a gym, with all its ramifications.

Off The Top
Of The Desk

Still another robin has been spotted, this time in West Andover. We are inclined to feel that there are several of the breed bouncing about, and become somewhat curious if the red-breasted harbingers of spring are actually that.

Could there be a possibility that some stay around during the winter, either being too lazy to fly south, or just happen to like it here in New England?

We hesitate to offer any conclusions, only to suggest that anyone having a chance at escaping the recent snowstorms would be foolhardy to remain around this locale examining the snowdrifts - whether it be human or robin. Skiers are excluded from the comment.

We have seen knitting needles by the hundreds at town meetings in the past, but there were three needles which became somewhat alarming at the Monday night session. They were being adroitly manipulated by a male in the front of the hall. We have no idea of what he was composing with the metal sticks and yarn, but noticing his activity leads us to believe he would shame the composers of the various sweaters, afghans, etc., which were being processed during the town's annual business session.

A highlight of this year's town meeting - and there always is one annually - was Heinrich Rohrbach's biblical dissertation on Carmel Woods being given over to the Conservation Commission.

Dr. Albert J. Greenberg, chairman of the Finance committee which had opposed the issue, stood in favor of transferring the area to the Conservation commission after Mr. Rohrbach's comments on Mount Carmel, and other Biblical facts.

For this, Dr. Greenberg and the FinCom received applause and the Conservation Commission got its land.

A traditional scene at town meetings is that of James D. Doherty bouncing around the forum floor, checking on votes and reporting them to the moderator and to Town Clerk Irving O. Piper.

"Jim" has been on the job for several years and traditionally handles the duties well, insuring that the voters are checked in properly, and that the votes are recorded in legal manner.

He and his men are due a 'tip of the hat' for a job well done - as usual.

An interesting advertisement appears in an exchange newspaper which crossed the desk this past week. The owner of a gun store which had been burglarized, advertised that the thieves should immediately register the guns stolen from the shop, lest they be in violation of the recent firearms control laws.

Down The Years

75 Years Ago - March, 1894

The second annual convention of the Sunday School Association, Lawrence District, will be held at South church, this week.

The Women's Relief Corps and friends enjoyed a social at the Bradlee Hall, Ballardvale.

The selectmen, in making their annual appointments, name George F. Cheever police chief.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shattuck, who recently purchased the Holt estate in West Parish were visited by several friends from the Scotland district.

The Phillips Academy glee and banjo clubs will give a joint concert with a similar group from Brown University, Providence, R. I.

50 Years Ago - March, 1919

Andrew McTernan declared winner of selectman's race winning by a single vote over Selectman Donald, following a recount.

Captains of the teams which will collect funds for the welcome home celebration for servicemen, will meet this week.

Dr. Claude M. Fuess of Phillips Academy gives an address on "The Fighting Spirit," at meeting of the men's club of Free Church.

Dr. Daly renamed town physician disclaiming thoughts that his reappointment depended on the defeat of Andrew McTernan as selectman.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN
The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has qualified for the first time its oft repeated but never proven claim of fluoridation's safety - where it hedges: "This quantity (1 ppm of fluoridated water) poses no safety problem if it is the only source of added fluoride"...

But it is not the only source - far from it - There is scarcely a corner of our United States which is free from additional sources of fluoride as a result of pollution from car exhausts - chimneys of coalburning furnaces - oil refineries - steel mills - aluminum plants - phosphate plants - copper smelters - glass, brick and ceramic tile works - many foods and beverages processed with fluoridated water - herbicides and pesticides (which are found now in all our food) and pharmaceuticals include fluoride. In addition, fluoride occurs naturally in many foods - so no one knows whether or not one is ingesting a dangerous amount of fluoride...

The Research Council of Canada has found that an adult's individual intake of fluorine in a fluoridated community now varies from 2 to 5 milligrams a day - a dangerous amount according to our own U.S. Public Health Service - and yet the drive to fluoridate all our water supplies continues.

It is a dangerous and shameful situation and we trust that our local legislators will examine the growing body of evidence pointing to the dangers of fluoridation and will pass legislation to outlaw it in Massachusetts.

For evidence read March issue of "Saturday Review."

H. R. Blake
186 Summer St.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

Mr. Bowen has decided to leave us, I'm sorry to say. I should like to voice my appreciation for all he has given us in these past five years. To me he has epitomized what is forward-looking, reasonable and honest in government. I will remember him giving leadership to our great, shapeless town meeting; helping this body to function; showing us respect at times when we hardly deserved it; showing respect as well for the democratic process, when we were tempted to question its value. Mr. Bowen's professionalism has been clear to see. Because of this and his non-political position, he has been able to take the rare, long-term view of town problems rather than the expedient one.

We are fortunate to have had Mr. Bowen as our town manager, and I wish him the very best for the future.

Barbara M. Bro
49 Summer St.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN
Business at the end of a late town meeting can be misunderstood.

With respect to this motion "This Town Meeting extends its thanks to Manager Bowen for his energetic services to the cause of Town Manager Government and wishes him a pleasant and speedy voyage to his new location and duties" it was assumed that this was understood: A person leaving employment can ask for no greater concern by others than that he speedily find and relocate in a new position.

Cash Balance

Massachusetts cash balance dropped $9.3 million last month, State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane noted today in his latest monthly report on the financial condition of the Commonwealth.

He reported the February cash balance as $71,075,929.02 as compared to January's cash balance of $80,433,578.83. This, Treasurer Crane pointed out, resulted from the fact that February's disbursements exceeded the month's receipts to that extent.

February's disbursements, he added, were $250,051,049, while the month's receipts were only $240,693,400.

The Voters Came, Were Fed And Enlightened

"It just worked out beautifully," smiled Florence McGrath, and every town meeting voter who had a hot lunch in the high school's sunlit cafeteria Saturday must have agreed.

Mrs. McGrath and her staff were flooded with thanks for the 800 hot lunches they served to Andover's citizens between 11:15 and 1:45. Coffee was available from 9 a.m. til the meeting adjourned, and found 1000 takers.

It was a far cry from the cold sandwiches of yesteryear. It also gave some town meeting goers their first experience at being on the inside of senior high school or on the outside of one of the school menus they look for in the TOWNSMAN each week. Both seemed to go down well.

"People put themselves out to say thank you," Mrs. McGrath reported. "We told them that whatever they chose, they got the same lunch we give the kids, but the kids only have to pay a quarter for it; we had chicken barbecue, Italian meatball sandwiches, frankfurters in rolls, fruit bars, midnight chocolate cake and doughnuts and milk, but they also had their choice of coffee, tea or coke. The girls worked real hard to get it ready, but they told me afterwards it went so smoothly and everyone was so nice it was easier than some other big jobs they've had."

Two or three of the men came into the kitchen, the cafeteria director reported, and asked if it was all right to look around. They got a predictable housewifely response: "That was all right with us. Our kitchens are always nice and clean, and we'll open any door!"

"They told us they just wanted to see where their tax dollar was going, and we showed them, and they seemed very pleased with what they saw."

"The girls" who worked so hard were Mrs. Evelyn Poole, in charge of the high school cafeteria, who managed the cooking, and a staff drawn from various schools for the serving: Mrs. Gladys Glennie, Mrs. Alice Taylor, Mrs. Anne Lynch, Mrs. Dorothy Valentine, Mrs. Pearl Hennessey, Mrs. Shirley Petzold and Mrs. Mary Deacon.

There were some disagreements on the town meeting floor, over at the gym, but the cafeteria was a place for good food and fellowship. The girls in the kitchen decided that the people who came to town meeting were "a very pleasant group."

Bartlett Hayes To Retire In August

At their recent mid-winter meeting, the trustees of Phillips Academy, appointed Christopher C. Cook to succeed Bartlett H. Hayes, Jr., as director of the Addison Gallery of American Art, effective July 1.

Mr. Hayes will have reached the academy's mandatory retirement age by August, 1969.

Mr. Cook was born in 1932, studied in the public schools of Newton; Wesleyan University (1954); University of Illinois (1959). He taught at the University of Illinois, Colby Junior College, University of New Hampshire, and has been on the Phillips Academy faculty since 1964.

Mr. Hayes joined the Academy's faculty as instructor in drawing, painting, and art history in 1933. He became assistant curator of the gallery the following year, and assumed the directorship of the gallery in 1940, succeeding Charles H. Sawyer. At that time, he was also appointed chairman of the art department of the academy--then a department of two men. The department presently numbers seven.

In addition to his duties at Andover, Mr. Hayes is currently active as a Trustee of the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, and of Old Sturbridge Village. He is also a trustee of the American Federation of Arts, the Amon Carter Museum of Fort Worth, and the Saint Gaudens Memorial, Cornish, New Hampshire. He is a member of the board of directors for Public Schools in Boston, the Smithsonian Art Commission, and serves on the Executive Committee of the Art in Embassies Program for the Department of State.

He is a member of several advisory committees of the Massachusetts Department of Education and is a consultant to the Office of Education in Washington. He is also a member of various professional organizations, including the College Art Association of America, of which he was for several years secretary and a member of its board of directors. He is the author of several books and television programs as well as being a Fellow of the American Arts and Sciences.

Miss Lynch Honored

Miss Margaret M. Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Lynch, Jr., 31 Wild Rose Drive, and a junior at Chandler School for Women, Boston, has achieved dean's list for the past semester.

Miss Lynch is a graduate of Andover High school, class of 1968 and is preparing to be an executive secretary.

There are still a lot of wide open spaces in this country but the trouble is they are mostly surrounded by teeth.

Team Compiles Fine Record Memorial Hall Library

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High hockey team recently concluded its second season of varsity hockey competition with a fine 15-6-1 record. The club took a good run at the Merrimack Valley Schoolboy Hockey League title before settling for third place with a 13-4-1 slate—three points behind champion Wilmington and a single point in back of second-place Burlington.

Coach Charlie Vars' Golden Warriors then surprised a few people by becoming the first MVHL team to advance beyond the second round of the 27th annual Eastern Mass. Schoolboy Hockey tournament at the Boston Arena last week.

Andover thumped Twin State Hockey League champion Lawrence, 6-0, and then stunned co-North Shore League kingpin Malden Catholic, 3-2, before bowing out of the tourney last Saturday with a 6-0 loss to Swampscott. Last year, Andover advanced to the second round of the tourney before being eliminated.

While the Golden Warrior sextet was losing out to Swampscott last Saturday in Boston, three of its standouts were being honored at the Merrimack Valley Forum in Billerica as first and second MVHL All-Star selection.

Junior defenseman Dave Marson was named to the first All-Star squad, while junior defenseman Mark Hockmeyer and team scoring leader Jan Gottsfeld (at wing) made the second team.

At the beginning of the season Andover was co-favored with defending champion Burlington to capture the MVHL crown. The Golden Warriors broke from the starting gate with a rush, compiling a 7-0-1 record in their first eight games to burst to the top of the circuit standings.

Included in that great start was a 5-3 win over Burlington (when Craig Bliss fired home four goals), a 7-1 trouncing of eventual league champion Wilmington, and a series of three consecutive shutouts by Andover goalie Ed Rawlings.

Then followed a heart-breaking 2-1 loss to Burlington, a 4-1 defeat at the hands of Wilmington and an unbelievable 1-0 last-second defeat to Burlington again, which plunged the Golden Warriors into third place.

They rebounded to post four successive wins just prior to their two-week trip to England, Sweden, Switzerland, etc. So they left the states with an 11-3-1 mark—again atop the loop.

The boys returned 14 days later after absorbing 7-1, 29-0 and 4-3 defeats overseas in exhibition matches. Before them lay the task of playing three games in three days. They needed the first two wins to qualify just under the wire for the Eastern Mass. Tourney. They needed three wins to bet the MVHL title.

They made the tourney with a 2-1 win over Chelmsford and a 5-1 victory over Billerica. However, they finally tired, in the title scrap with Wilmington, dropping a 6-2 decision.

The team rebounded again, however, to play excellent hockey in the Eastern Mass. Tourney.

In the regular season scoring totals, Jan Gottsfeld paced the team with 27 points on 13 goals and 14 assists. He was followed by Doug Grange with 23 points and a team high of 14 goals. Mark Hockmeyer was third with 22 points and a team high of 17 assists.

Then, in order, came Capt. Chris Mundy and Dave Marson with 20 points apiece, Craig Bliss with 18, Jeff Morgan with 14, Jim Ganley with 13, Steve St. Jean with four, Don Glines and Mike Bruno with three apiece, and Richard and Eric Anderson along with Jeff Lewis at one point each.

Ed Rawlings ended with the best goals against mark in the circuit, allowing 30 goals in 18 games for a 1.67 pace. He registered three shutouts.

As a team Andover had a league-leading 75 goals and 95 team assists. For two seasons the overall Andover record is an excellent 25-12-1.

CONCERN for others sparked this march of high school students to start their UNICEF Food for Nigeria-Biafra Drive. Students will conduct door-to-door canvass for funds to combat starvation in Nigeria-Biafra. (Reed)

Students Aid Biafra Effort

A group of Student Activity Center and other Andover High school students are determined to raise money to help ward off further starvation in Nigeria-Biafra. Their efforts are beginning to succeed, after weeks of working their way through the snafus of adult red tape.

An eight mile publicity march Sunday marked the end of the red tape and the beginning of the S.A.C. town-wide door-to-door UNICEF Food for Nigeria-Biafra Drive. Within 24 hours, the students had collected $689.20 and the support of many adults who will have to run to keep up with the organized concern of the Student Activity Center, supported by their director, James Carroll.

On Sunday's mid-day march were 34 high school students, led by Regan Unsoeld and other S.A.C. members, Schuyler Royce representing Phillips Academy, a large group of Sunday School children who marched the first hour with their adult supervisors, and little Thomas Dengler, who marched the entire eight miles.

The board of selectmen were the first to bless S.A.C.'s efforts to organize a drive to collect money for the thousands of civilian victims of the Nigeria-Biafra war.

Before that, the students had suffered setback after setback, beginning with the refusal of the principal and superintendent to break with a years-old ruling permitting only three previously designated "outside" drives in the schools. The school committee postponed action, although Committeewoman Mrs. Virginia Cole urged quick approval, saying "How can we adults expect to teach young people to get involved if we refuse when they get an idea like this, to let them carry through on it?" This wasn't on outside drive; the idea came from the student themselves!"

The young people's frustration reached its peak with the disapproval of the drive by the solicitation control committee of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, which said the student and organization were very worth while, but "did not represent what could be called a community benefit," as they benefited "mainly a specific group and should be supported by the members thereof and not by the general public." Shortly after that the selectmen made their favorable decision and continued with plans for the publicity march and the door-to-door canvass. Receipts will be given for all contributions contributed to UNICEF and S.A.C. leaders hope that persons not at home when student canvassers collect will send their donations to James Carroll, director, student activity center, Andover High school.

S.A.C. has thanked the selectmen for their support, the First Calvary Baptist Church and an anonymous visitor from the state of Washington for their contributions, and the local businesses who supported the drive with contributions.

The following Andover High school students participated in Sunday's march for UNICEF funds: Frank Antonucci, Peg Arnold, Rodney Bentley, Stephen Bull,

The young people also have expressed their appreciation "for the helpful cooperation of the police department, especially the officer who accompanied them on their march."

Regan Unsoeld, spokesman for the group, said the students working on the project are hoping that the citizens of Andover will support them in seizing this opportunity "to help feed those not as fortunate as ourselves."

McMahon In Co-op Program

John W. McMahon is one of seven Colby College students spending the second semester at the University of Redlands, Redlands, Cal.

The program in which he is participating is part of an exchange instituted three years ago between the two institutions. Each student pays tuition and board and room charges at his home college, although he resides and studies at the other institution. Sophomores and juniors are eligible.

Redlands is located about 60 miles from Los Angeles. Similar to Colby, the university is coeducational with an enrollment of about 1500 students.

McMahon, a sociology major and a junior, is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth C. McMahon of 6 Burnham Road. He prepared for college at Andover High school.

Realtors Honored

Andover realtors, Mrs. Rosann Brown, Mrs. Lee Dodd and Mrs. Edna Kidd have been awarded the status of graduate, Realtors' Institute and were honored recently at graduation ceremonies at the Framingham Motor Inn.

They were among the 81 graduates who successfully passed a three year course of study at the Realtors' Institute of Massachusetts.

Mrs. Kidd has been in the real estate investment field for a number of years and operates an office both in Andover and Cape Cod, and has been treasurer of the Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors since 1963. She resides at 97 Elm St.

Mrs. Brown formerly headed offices in Michigan and Connecticut and for the past three years has managed the real estate department of the Bernard Agency. She resides at 38 Chestnut St.

Mrs. Dodd is owner of the Lee Dodd Realty and is secretary to the Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors. She lives at 221 So. Main St., with her husband and two of their four children.

In addition to the GRI classification, both Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Kidd hold certificates in residential appraising.

To gain the title of GRI, it was necessary to complete a 90-hour course which included such topics as industrial marketing, urban renewal, income property and investments. Heavy emphasis also was placed on real estate law, ethics, construction, civic responsibility, sales management, and financing. Exchanging, listing techniques, economics, advertising, executive speech and property management were other subjects heavily stressed.

Storms Curtail IRS Operations

The Internal Revenue Service advised all taxpayers in the New York-New England area that the Regional Service Center, Andover, has had their operations severely curtailed by the abnormal New England snowstorm that struck the area, Feb. 24 and 25.

Four feet of snow in the Andover area caused the service center to be completely shut down on Feb. 24, since employees were unable to report to work. Disruption of transportation facilities, public and private, were at a standstill Feb. 24, and on Feb. 25 only 28 percent of the normal work force managed to reach the service center.

IRS stated that the inability of carriers delivering income tax returns to the service center to get through the heavy drifts of snow will delay the processing of returns and extend the waiting time on refunds that are due.

Fixtures Of All Types

Mid City Supply, Inc., 92 Broad- way in Lawrence, has recently undergone extensive remodeling to its store front and now features an unusual and distinctive Colonial architectural design of brick and hand split shakes, set off by two exterior gas lanterns. At Mid City you will find every type of lighting fixture made today - imported and domestic, interior and exterior, in styles to suit every decor.

Among the lovely crystal chandeliers from Europe, Mid City is showing the new Strass crystals from Austria, which are the very latest in crystals currently being shown in the New York showrooms.

They also have beautiful wrought iron fixtures from Italy, Williams- burgs designed in Germany and Holland, modern hanging pendants, chain lamps, game room special- ties, all types of garage and lamp post fixtures, and distinctive lamps by Stiffel and other top names.

Mid City Supply is also the largest art supply dealer north of Boston. They feature both fine art and commercial supplies as well as drafting and engineering school equipment. Their new, fully equipped art supply department on the first floor rear, displays a complete selection of paints and brushes for every type of painting, plus easels, mats and canvass.

Mid City's complete Wallpaper Studio features paints and wall- papers of every description. Their decorator consultant is on hand at all times to assist and advise you at no extra charge. She will show you an excellent, well- rounded collection of wallpapers by all the top makers and show you how their Custom Color Center works, matching paints to your decorating scheme.

There is ample free parking in the rear of the store, so plan to visit Mid City Supply soon. Look for their new Colonial front on Broadway, just up from Essex Street, in Lawrence.

Camera Club Wins Awards

Four certificates of merit have been awarded to members of the Lawrence Camera Club on a group of slides submitted to the New England Camera Club Council for comment.

The entire group of slides, about fifty in number, will be shown at the club meeting on Tuesday night along with a taped commentary prepared by the council commenting on each of the slides. The merit certificates will be presented to the owners of the winning slides.

There will also be a presentation entitled "How to Make Better Travel Pictures" shown at the meeting.

Each member is requested to bring in a slide for use in the inter-club competition with the Wakefield Camera Club.

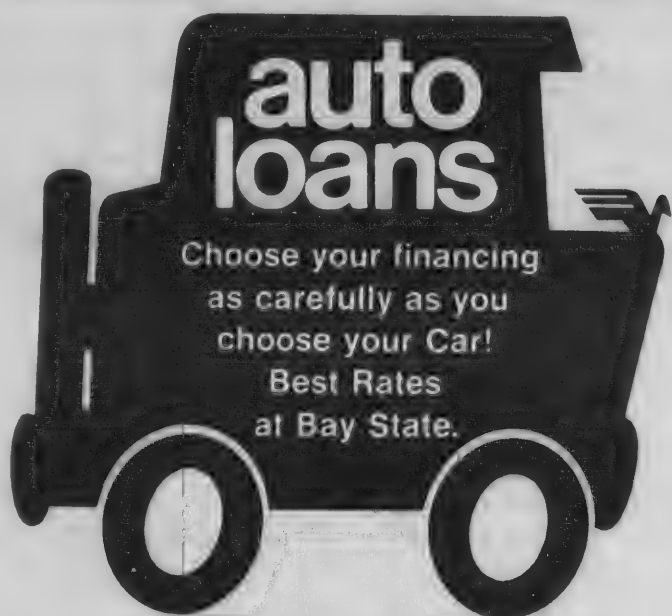

Visitors may attend the meeting which will be held in the Merrimack Valley National Bank Building at 335 Common St., Lawrence at 8 p.m.

HIGH SCORERS. Andover East Junior High School placed first in the Intermediate Mathematics league last week and were led by these three young students, left to right, Lori Buchan, James Collins and Charles Galbiati.

Tops In Math League

In the fourth contest of the Intermediate Mathematics League of Eastern Massachusetts, held last Thursday, East Junior High School won first place with a team of ten members, only two of whom were ninth graders.

In individual scoring David Pagonis was high point scorer of the meet at ninth grade level. Other team members were James Collins, Jennifer McLean, Arlene Elowe, Elizabeth Harrison, Robin Jacobson, Charles Galbiati, Avis Newell, Laury Gottesfeld, Lori Buchan, Katy Gass, and Elizabeth Seifel.

Students pictured above have all been high point scorers in former meets. James Collins is twice individual high scorer on the ninth grade level. Lori Buchan tied for individual high scorer seventh grade in the first meet. Charles Galbiati tied for individual high scorer, seventh grade, in the first meet.

Refreshments were served to contestants in the host school, East Junior High. William Godfrey, chairman, was assisted by other members of his department and by Mrs. Paula Gaynor of the homemaking department.

Miss Tatelman To Receive Certificate

Miss Jacklyn Gay Tatelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tatelman of Hidden Road, will receive her certificate on Friday evening, March 14, from the Academie Moderne.

She will participate in a fashion show entitled "Pisces Psyche". Ceremonies will be held at the Charter House Motor Motel in Cambridge.

Mildred Albert, Dean of the Academie, will present the certificates.

On Dean's List

Miss Charlotte Iowney, acting dean of Pembroke College, the women's coordinate college in Brown University, today announced a Dean's list of 325 women for the spring semester, 1969.

Those named to the list for maintaining high academic standards during the previous semester include: Jeanne O. Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Ellis of 30 Lovejoy Road and a graduate of Andover High school. Secretary treasurer of the synchronized swimming team and a member of her class council her freshman year, Miss Ellis is a junior majoring in Psychology.

Linda S. Sagaser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Sagaser of 56 Chestnut St. and a graduate of Andover High school. Miss Sagaser is a member of the class of 1972 and is a candidate for the bachelor of arts degree.

John Brown had 18 men with him on the Harper's Ferry raid.

P. A. Students Presented With Awards

Two Phillips Academy students have been presented with awards at the University of North Carolina.

Sidney Joseph Stern III (Sid), son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney J. Stern, Jr. of 1804 Nottingham Road, Greensboro, N.C., has received a Morehead Award to study at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

The announcement is made by Hugh G. Chatham of Elkin, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the John Motley Morehead Foundation.

Stern is a student at Phillips Academy in Andover. His award is worth $8,000 for four years of study at UNC.

As a student, his activities include being a participant in the Science Roundtable Program, dormitory librarian, Blue Key Guide and a member of the Archeology Club.

Jere Schenck Meserole, Jr. (Chip), son of Mr. and Mrs. Jere S. Meserole, Sr. of 41 Fairmount St. in Burlington, Vt., has also received a Morehead Award.

Meserole is a student at Phillips Academy in Andover. His award is worth $10,100 for four years of study at UNC.

As a student, his activities include being president of the band, a member of the Key Club and the Phillips Society and a participant in varsity football and basketball.

Morehead Awards were first presented in 1951.

To Take Census

Questions aimed at developing new information about the Nation's households and families will be asked in this area as part of the Census Bureau's monthly Current Population Survey the week of March 16, Director James W. Turbitt of the Bureau's regional office in Boston announced today. The March survey contains inquiries on the number of persons in families and in households, employment and unemployment and annual income from various sources.

The identity of households to be questioned is kept confidential and the facts obtained will be used only for statistical purposes.

TOWN MEETING

It was further agreed that the chamber and the FinCom would get together and discuss proposals, with the thought of making a recommendation to the October town meeting.

Additional funds were provided for the public safety center.

The voters approved, 545-45, an additional $115,000 to adequately equip the building.

Selectman Sidney P. White, who proposed a year ago that a new safety center could be built within the appropriation, explained to the meeting that additional funds were needed and that it still would be a reasonable request, noting that additional square footage had been obtained through the new plans, at an economical cost. The total cost, he said, was $613,000 - a figure which Town Manager Bowen said was actually $628,000 - but was still considerably less than the building proposed and rejected by the 1968 town meeting.

One article which had some tough sledding was a request for $20,000 to dredge and clear land for water storage at Haggetts pond.

It was finally approved by a majority vote, following Water Supt. Donald Bassett advising the voters that such storage was necessary to clean the water conditions.

"If you don't approve it, please don't call me next summer and complain about dirty water, dirty teeth and the men going to work dirty because of the color of the water."

With that the voters cast their approval.

Attendance was comparatively good during the three sessions. There were 946 recorded at the Saturday session, 838 on Monday night and 576 at the concluding Tuesday session.

Proudly, He Is A Citizen

In a short ceremony which was a moving one to his family, his South Church friends, and surely to himself, Antonio Trujillo became a United States citizen on March 7.

Mr. Trujillo, citizen of Andover, Massachusetts, United States of America, formerly of Cuba, took his oath of office at the Essex County Superior Court in Lawrence Friday morning.

It was a little over six years after South Church's sponsorship had brought Trujillo, his wife and their children Ophelia and Antonio Jr., to Andover, the family had left everything they owned in communist Cuba to escape to freedom in America.

Six winters of unaccustomed winter weather later, Tony Trujillo has progressed from his first bottom-of-the-ladder job to a responsible position as head of the stockroom with men working under him, at his present company, De-fiance Circuit.

Trujillo has bought and paid for a car, is buying his house on Chickering Court, and has saved enough money to bring a twin sister and her husband, Mrs. Trujillo's parents, his own brother, his niece and another brother to America.

According to his friends, Trujillo's motto has been, "Don't give me anything but an opportunity."

The Richard Moody's of South Church, who have been close to the Trujillos since their arrival in November, 1963, point out that Trujillo has turned down work opportunities which would move the family, even when the opportunity meant a rise in salary as well as in the winter thermometer.

The reason? It was Andover and South Church who welcomed the Trujillos and invited them to put their roots down here. They say they value their friendships here, and feel that it is here their children will receive the best education.

TENURE

He also commented on the salaries being received by the professional staff of the public schools.

Defending the article was James J. St. Germain, a professor at Merrimack College, who felt that retention of the law was an effort toward protecting academic freedom. He felt it a necessity to maintain the regulation.

St. Germain also said the issue did not belong on the town meeting floor, since it was merely an expression of opinion which the state legislature may not pay any attention to.

Rep. Paul W. Cronin suggested that the meeting table the issue and see what the legislature would do with similar proposals already before it. Some have been considered at hearings, but no decisions have been made as yet, he said.

The issue was finally approved by a majority voice vote.
